"LIGHT, AND NOT GI

THE VAST CROWDS THAT visited our Store during the past two weeks would not indicate dull times. It may also be said, that those patronizing our Bargain Sales can not experience dull times, as the be said, that those patronizing our Bargain Sales can not experience dull times, as the purchasing power of the dollar was never more truthfully manifested. We will from week to week continue to have Big Bargain Sales, save money to our patrons, sell better goods for less money than ever before, and offer every inducement to merit your patronage. We positively decline to carry any goods in stock that we cannot recommend to be serviceable and strictly first-class in every respect.

We Offer a Few Items that are Hard to Duplicate.	Cut Prices in Hosiery-Cont'd.
At 59c—12 dozen Honey Comb Bed Spreads, extra large size, regular 59c value $1, to go this week at	Lot 58-100—Ladies' Plain Lisle Thread Hose, a regular 40c quality, cut price
kins, good value at 95c, to go this 59c week at	Fast Blk. Cotton Hose, high spliced heel, double sole, worth 50c a pair, 1.0
At 95c—50 dozen Bleached Honey Comb Towels, size 20x40, a good value at $1.75 per dozen, to go this week, per dozen, at	GREAT CUT IN KID GLOVES. Comprising our own importation, also
At 49c—About 15 dozen Misses' Kid Gloves, slightly spotted, regular price $1 and $1.25 pr., to close out. 49c	remainder of Foster, Paul & Co.'s mak Foster's "Lacing" Kid Gloves, $1.25 69 quality, cut price
Great Cut in Corsets, as Long as They Last.	quality, cut price
We will place on sale about 250 Standard Corsets at and less than half price. Best values in Corsets ever offered.	Foster's "Fosterina" Kid Glove, $2.25 1.7 quality, cut price
Lots 215 and 216—J. B. 5 and 6 Hook Corsets, retailing all over the coun- try at $1 and $1.25, cut price 75c	Buy your Kid Gloves at Hamp and save from 25c to 50c a pair.
Lot 217—J. B. 5 and 6 Hook Corsets, in black and white, retailing everywhere at $1.50, cut price 95c	Attractions in Colored Dress Materi
Another lot consists of a well known brand sold all over the country at 95c $1.50, cut price	Novelty Dress Goods, regular price 15c a yard, not over one pattern to a customer
250 Ferris Good-Sense Waists, at 25c, 75c	250 Dress Patterns, double width Novelty Dress Goods, worth at 1
Buy your Corsets of us, and get the best	least 30c a yard, 8 yard lengths

Cut Prices in Hosiery.
Tomorrow we will place on sale as long as they last:
Lot 559—Ladies' Fast Black Cotton
Hose, full made and finished, 3 100
Lot 145—Ladies' Fast Black Hose, excellent quality, full finished, 3 prs. 250
* 1 1 2 2 2 2 2 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 Hose, full made, excellent cotton, 3 pairs for Lot 5147—Ladies' Fast Black Drop- stitch Lisle Thread Hose, a 45c ar- ticle, cut price makes at the lowest prices.

Cut Prices in Hosiery-Cont'd.

Lot 58-100-Ladies'	Plain	Lisle
Thread Hose, a reg		*	5c
3 Pairs for $1-250 Fast Blk. Cotton Ho	ea hirch	enligad	1 heel, double sole, we 3 pairs in a box for	orth 50c	a pair, 1	00

GREAT CUT IN KID GLOVES.

Comprising our own importation, also the remainder of Foster, Paul & Co.'s make.
Foster's "Lacing" Kid Gloves, $1.25 69c quality, cut price
Foster's "William" Kid Gloves, $1.25 75c quality, cut price
Foster's "Fowler" Kid Glove, $1.50 1.25 quality, cut price
Foster's "Fosterina" Kid Glove, $2.25 1.75 quality, cut price
Foster's "Pique" Kid Gloves, $1.751.25
Buy your Kid Gloves at Hampe's

ttractions in Colored Dress Materials

250 Dress Patterns of double width
Novelty Dress Goods, regular price 15c a yard, not over one pattern to a customer	090
250 Dress Patterns, double width
Novelty Dress Goods, worth at least 30c a yard, 8 yard lengths	1.06
85 Dress Patterns double width Novelty Dress Goods, Chameleon effect, value 35c a yard, 8 yards to a pat- 1.95 tern, for..... ng as 220 Dress Patterns of our various 40c and 45c Novelty Goods, in 8 yard 2.95 lengths, for See our Broadhead Dress Goods, the most popular medium priced Dress fabrics in the market; also our elegant line of English, Special-285 yards Satin Duchesse French and German Novelties-nothing like them in the city.

Magnets in Black Dress Goods This Week.

800 yards Brocaded Novelty Brillian 18C tines, regular value 20c, this week

Magnets in Black Dress Goods-Cont'd. Extraordinary Offerings in Our Cloak

	1200 yards 40-inch Black Novelties in Brocaded and Lizard effects, regu-	250
•	lar price 35c, this week	4 50
	1000 yards 40-inch Novelty Brillian-tine, Jacquards and Mohairs, regu-	350
١	lar value 50c, this week	000

Special This Week Only.

All Medium and High Grade Black Dress Goods, in plain and novelty effects, at a reduction of from 10 per cent to 25 per cent.

Magnets in Colored Silks.

850 yards all pure Silk Moire, considered cheap at $1.25, all colors, this	4 0 week at One lot all pure Silk Plaids, sold at 80c, 95c and $1.35 per yard, this	50 50
week at	3 9

shades, all colors, sold at 75c, 95c 39c and $1.25 per yard, this week at.. 25 pieces Colored China Silk, sold at 19C 35c, 40c and 45c, this week at Evening Silks, Colored Taffetas, Changeable Taffetas, Brocaded and Persian Taffetas, Drapery, Silks, etc. All in great variety. All go this week at special cuts.

GREAT VALUES IN BLACK SILKS. Tomorrow we will place on sale our entire line of Fine Black Silks at the Following Prices: All our Brocaded Taffetas, Brocaded Satin Duchesse, Brocaded Mohairs, etc., retailing 59c at 65c, 75c, 79c, 85, your choice at All our Satin Duchesse, Peau de Soie, Armures, Gros Grains, Satins, Pekin Stripes, etc., retailing at 75c, 59c 85c and 95c, your choice at and Taffeta Silk, Black Ground, col-$1.95 per yard, your choice per yd. 59c

Ladies please note. The above Silks are not the cheap, flimsy Silks often used by compet- ranging in price from 95c to $5.50. itors as baits, but the very best, firmly woven, pure Silk, and retailed just as advertised.

Department.
	We now offer — 185 Ladies' Cloth 75c Capes, regular value $1.25, now
	Capes, regular value $1.25, now
	175 Ladies' Cloth Capes, regular 1.25 value $2.75, now
	5 dozen Ladies' Beaver Capes, Fur 1.35

Trimmed, value $2.50, now 5 dozen Ladies' Beaver Capes, Fur and Bead Trimmed, full sweep, 2.50 regular value $4, now

See our line of Medium and Fine Capes, ranging in price from $4 to $25. To your interest to inspect our line before pur-C chasing elsewhere.

250 Plush and Velvet Capes, ranging in price from $3.90 to $35. Nothing like them anywhere.

Children's and Infants' Cloaks, etc. Infants' Long Cashmere Robes and Dresses at 75c, 90c, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, etc.

Children's Cloaks, ages 2 to 6 years, at 90c, $1.25, $1.50 to $8.50. Infants' Cashmere and Knit Saques, Booties,

Mittens, Shawls, etc. See our Children's Reefers, ages 2 to 12 years, in Red, Navy Blue, Tans and Grays, at various prices.

Bargains in Blankets and Comforts. Entire Basement Devoted to This Department.

Our unusual large purchase this season of Blankets and Comforts enables us to meet any and all competition. Our prices are moving them rapidly.

1	case of 10-4 White Blankets, regular value 75c, our price	590
1	case of 10-4 White Blaukets, regular value $1.25, our price	750 case of 10-4 White Blankets, regular price $1.50, our price case of 11-4 Wool Blankets, regular price $2.75, our price

See our Comforts made of finest Cotton

Also Eiderdown Quilts in Satin and Silk, ranging in price from $3.95 to $8.75 each.

Main St. and Texas Avenue. Binz Building.

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS.

Resolutions Adopted on the Death of Dr. Waggener.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES TO BE HELD.

equent Tribute to One of the State's reatest Teachers, Who Was at All Times a Worker and Student.

Austin, Texas, October 24.—The follow as resolutions fully explain their purport and are a just tribute to a most worthy ator whose whole life was devoted to profession: George T. Winston, President of the University of Texas, Austin, Texas, October 23, 1836.—Bear Sir: The committee Spointed to draft appropriate resolutions concerning the life and death of Jir. Leslie Waggener, late professor of English in the University of Texas, and to arrange for public exercises in honor of his memory, leave to make this final report:

That the appended memoir be adopted to the faculty.

2. That a certified copy be sent Mrs.

That copies be furnished the press. That memorial exercises be held on day already set apart (Saturday, Octo-21), in accordance with the following ding of the Scriptures. Hev. T. B. Lee Fer Rev. J. A. French lon-The Life. Character and Scrv-loss of Dr. Leslie Waggener. Judge E. J. Simkins

Bynn Judge R. J. Simkins Mrs. Odom Mrs. Odom Mrs. Odom Ars. Cell B. Wright That the committee be authorized to draw on the contingent fund for a sum sufficient 10 meet any expenses incidental to the holding of the memorial exercises.

Chairman of the Memorial Committee.

MEMOIR

Leslie Waggener, A. M., L.L. D., Late Professor of English in the Uni-versity of Texas. calle Waggener was born in Trenton

Todd county, Kentucky, September 11, 1841. His Opportunity Comes;" baccalaureate active of acts at Bethel college, Kentucky, in 1860, and with the same degree at Harvard university in 1861. The next four years he spent in the service of the Confederate army, he was promoted to the rank of second lieutenant and at one time served as adjurant of his regiment and as assistant acquired active of the confederate army, he was promoted to the rank of second lieutenant and at one time served as adjurant of his regiment and as assistant acquired to the regiment and as assistant acquired to the fellowing years he married Miss Fannie Pendleton, daughter of Rev. James M. Pendleton he was called to the newly-established Uni-tersity of Toxas as professor of English literature and of history. Subsequently (in 1888) the school was divided, and Professor Waggener retained English literature only. For ten successive years Dr. Waggener was also chairman of the faculty, but on May 18, 1894, he resigned this peet lon. Later, however, on the substitution of the presi-dency for the chairmanship, Dr. Waggener, I at the solicitation of the board of regents, at the solicitation of the board of regents, consented to act as president ad interim, a position that he fifled in connection with his professorship during the year 1808-98.

Immediately after the commencement exercises of 1886 Dr. Waggener was taken ill, but rallied and went to Colorado, where he was believed to be surely recovering, when a telegram brought the sad news of his death at Maniton Springs on August 19, 1896. His body was buried in Austin, Texas, on August 22.

1896. His body was buried in Austin, Texas, on August 22.

Dr. Waggener left a family consisting of his widow and seven children. Katle Pendieton (Mrs. A. S. Walker, Jr., of Austin) dieton (Mrs. A. S. Walker, Jr., of Austin) Center of Sherman), Legale, Jr., Fannie Pendieton, James Pendieton and Ellen Wooldieton, James Pendieton, James Pendie

Professor Waggenes received the degree of A. M. from Pethel college in 1857, and of A. M. from Pethel college in 1857, and of A. M. from Pethel college in 1857, and worms's Press association. May 21, 1858, that of L.L. D. from Georgetown college, that of L.L. D. from Georgetown coll Professor Waggenes received the degree 1895 for many years a deacon in the same.

The following is a list, as complete as the committee can make it, of Dr. Waggener's publications:

"He Succeeds Who is Prepared When

"Pennitions and Exercises in the Analysis of the Sentence;" Austin, Texas, Hutchings Printing House, 129.
"The Real Object of a University:" opening address, September, 1890, in the Austin Daily Statesman of September 30, 1890.
"Shakespeare, 'Richard II,' " University Circular, 1899.
"Shakespeare, 'Hamlet.' " University

"Shakespeare, 'Hamlet;' ' University Circular, 1801. "Robert Browning," biography and bibliography university circular, 1891.

"The Choice of Paris," opening address October, 1892; abstract in the Austin Dally Statesman of October 4, 1892.

"Tennyson," in the Texas School Journal (Dallas) for January, February, March and April 1893.

April, 1893. "A Visit to Windsor and Vicinity," in the School Forum (Dallas) for December, August 27, 1896.

"Dr. Wargener was the greatest teacher fever knew. A numil of his class not only could learn, but he would learn, he must learn. His work in the classroom was brilliant and insofring. Himself a careful and painstaking student, he gave study a charge and made it so attractive as to and painstaking student, he gave study a charm and made it so attractive as to quicken the dull and stupid and the lazy with a zeal for labor. I have seen him create bright promises out of scemingly honeless boys. He had that marvelous newer of mind to comprehend all the intri-cate details of a subject and to simplify them with his matchless analytic powers by co-ordaining them to a few fundamen-tal principles that easily gave the publi tal principles that easily gave the pupil a complete mastery of the subject in hand."

This judgment of his certier pupil at hand."
This judgment of his earlier bunil at Bethel college is confirmed by that of a distinguished later student at the university of Texas, who saws that some of trofessor Waggener's lectures were so cleverly not that to this day he can recall them almost bodily. Another secret of his power of insuiration was this. While the professor was not slow to point out the short-comings of students he was ever quick and gracious to commend their excellences.

As has been stated, when he first came to the University of Texas, Dr. Waggener was professor of history, as well as of English literature. And, although this continued but a few years, it lasted long enough to give Dr. Waggener an unusually wide knowledge of history—a knowledge that enhanced his mastery over English literature in which latter subject, of course he did his chief work. While deeply read in English literature as a whole, Dr. Waggener was in a very special schee a profound student of Burke, Rushin and Carlyle among the prose writers, and of Naturessee Milton Browning and Tenny.

found student of Burke, Rushin and Car-lyle among the prose writers, and of Shakerpeare, Milton, Browning and Tenny-son among the poets. Each year he gave a course of lectures on two or more of these, his favorites, and his hearers were always enthusiastic n their commendation. He left a set of lectures upon these and other authors that, had he lived, he would doubt-less have revised and published. It was the lectures upon Shakespeare that made such an indelible impression upon the dis-commonly active and useful life; they call for little illumination at the hands of your committee.

For twenty-six years professor of English thirteen at the university of Texas, Dr. Waggener was for an even tonger period a teacher. How gifted he was as an instructor we may judge from this tribute by one of his Bethel students Rev. J. O. Hust, pastor of the Edgeneid Baptist church (Nashville, for August 27, 1898.

"Dr. Waggener was the greatest teacher of this committed as the professor of the author, who was more ambitious characters are more ambitious characters."

turning over the management of the University lands to the board of regents; the establishment of the system of affiliated bigh schools, and the entargment of the above. But, excellent as these works are in their way, they do not adequately represent the faith that was suit the powers of the author, who was forced to give to the chairmanship allocated as many hours as to the professorship. Dr. Waggener was the greatest teacher of certain Shiter—a rhetoric, and clision of certain Shitespearian plays and of the management of the University lands to the best alliament of the system of affiliated bigh schools, and the entargment of the university lands to the best ablashment of the system of affiliated bigh schools, and the entargment of the students academic faculty.

Highly intellectual was the cast of his above. But, excellent as these works are in their way, they do not adequately represent the way of the author, who was forced to give to the chairmanship allocated bigh schools, and the entargment of the establishment of the system of affiliated bigh schools, and the entargment of the was at the schools.

Highly intellectual was the east of his data adamic faculty.

Highly intellectual was the cast of his mind, He was ever thoughtful, and could always give a reason for the fall that was in him. He had definite aims, and extended to the professorship. Dr. Waggener was the greatest teacher and the powers of the author, who was in him. He had definite and addresses, of which a list is given above. But, excellent as these works are in their way, they do not adequately represent the powers of the author, who was forced to give to the chairmanship almost as many hours as to the professorable Dr. Wagsener had planned others works of a more ambitious character—a rhetoric, an edition of certain Shakespearian plays and a history of English Hierature. But, just as he was relieved of his administrative duties, and was about to have leisure to early out these undertakings, the silver cord was loosed.

But, great as were Dr. Waggener's acrives as a professor of English, they were overtopped, the committee thinks, by his services as chairman of the faculty, an office that, with the exception of one year, he held for the last eleven years of his life. The position was peculiarly difficult he held for the last eleven years of his life. The position was peculiarly difficult with responsibility without corresponding sutherity. Another drawback was this owing to the fact that the holder was vested with responsibility without corresponding authority. Another drawback was this. The chairman was elected annually, and although Dr. Waggener was chosen for ten successive years, he could not foresee that such would be the case, and if he could have foreseen it, he had not the authority definitely to plan for the future. Presiding over faculty meetings, delivering addressee, Caring for the discipline of the institution, conducting the correspondence, preparing reports to the board of regents, responding to special calls for information and for suggestions concerning the policy of the university—all these duties made heavy demands upon him, but demands that were always promptly met. When Dr. Waggener was first elected chairman, the university was in its infancy, and naturally his mind was occupied with questions of creanization.

iniversity was in its infancy, and naturally his mind was occupied with questions of organization.

Among the specific measures with which Dr. Wasgener was especially identified, and which have greatly contributed to the upbuilding of the University may be mentioned the following: The abandonment of the practice of diverting $5000 from the University fund for the support of the State Agricultural and Mechanical College; the payment by the State of $125,000 to the University in settlement of a long standing indebtedness; the appropriation of a portion of the general revenue to the support of the University; the appropriation of a part of the indemnity fund received from the University buildings, the constitution inhibiting approprations from the general revenue for this purpose; the substitution of the presidency for the chairmanship; the schools. As often as possible he attended conventions, wrote for the journals and delivered addresses one of his colleagues that knew Dr. Waggener most intimately writes: "His modesty seems one of his must raits, and the finer because of his worth in so many ways." Says another colleague that knew him no less well: "Another quality he had in no small degree, though the reserve of his nature hid it from the world at large. Dr. Waggener was at that time as tender as a woman. This tenderness was especially noticeable in his relations with his family. To shield wife or children he haid upon himself the lowliest duties, and so exemplified. That best portion of a good man's life—

'That best portion of a good man's life— His little, nameless, unremembered acts Of kindness and of love!' "

What most struck me in Dr. Waggen-"What most struck me in Dr. Waggener," continues this same gentleman, "was his unremitting faithfulness to his duties.
Others of us rested summer after summer, but he only when his health seemed absolutely in danger. Each vacation as I started off on my holiday I left him sitting in his office at the university; and each time on returning I found him in the same place—an ever watchful sentinel over the institution to which he devoted his best energies."

the institution to which he devoted his best energies."

Equa'ly fulthful was he to the duties devolving upon him as a follower of the Christ. 'His daily life was an embodiment of the high principles and pure virtue inculcated by the religion that he professed." No wonder, then, that, when he felt himself in the valley of the shadow, he talked as deliberately and as trustully as if in the high noon of his strength; for, in the words of his favorite author, he was

"One who never turned his back, but marched breast forward, Never dreamed though right were worsted, wrong would triumph.
Held we fall to rise, are haffled to fight better.

Sleep to wake."

Your committee appointed to draft appropriate resolutions concerning the life and death of Dr. Wagener, feel that, in offering the above tribute to his memory, they have expressed, however, inadequately, yet to the best of their ability, their deep sense of the great loss sustained by our university and their sincers sympathy with the bereaved family.

Morgan Callaway, Jr.,
David F. Houston,
R. L. Batts.

University of Texas, October 6, 1895.

WEYLER'S EDICT.

Eight Days Given in Which Cubans May Properly Align Themselves.

Havana, October 22.—Captain General Weyler has issued a proclamation containing the following provisions:

1. All of the inhabitants in the country outside the lines of fortifications of the town must betake themselves to the towns occupied by troops within a period of eight days. Those who are found outside the towns after the expiration of the peciod will be considered rebeis and will be tried as such.

will be considered rebeis and will be tried as such.

2. The withdrawal of groceries from the towns is absolutely prohibited and also the transportation of them by sea or land without a permit from the military authorities. Violators of this provision will be tried and punished as aders of the rebeis.

3. Proprietors of cattle must carry them to towns or provide immediately that they shall receive due protection.

4. Eight days after the publication of this proclamation all rebeis surrendering in every municipality will be surject to the captain general's disposal to order them where to reside, and it will be a recommendation in their favor for them to give available news about those who surrender with their firearms and moreover to surrender collectively in their availations.

5. The proclamation is only foreible in the province of Pinar del Rio.

GET GLASSES THAT SUIT YOU.
NOT DESTROY YOUR EYES GREW WEARING THOSE THAT CAUSE OF HIEST AT THE HOUSTON GATE
GO, TA THE HOUSTON GATE